WELCOME to the IUPsyS electronic newsletter

This is the first edition of a regular electronic newsletter to keep National Members informed of current events in the life of the Union. Please help make it an interactive newsletter - send reports of activities, news about international psychology, and news of National Member activities to the Newsletter Editors.

IUPsyS in the NEWS:

Good News! --A direct voice for psychology in the International Science Council

- Michel Denis, IUPsyS President, elected to the ISCU Executive Committee
- Pierre Ritchie, IUPsyS Secretary-General appointed to the ISCU Committee on Scientific Planning and Review \(CSPR\)

ICSU - the International Science Council - is a non-governmental organization founded in 1931 to bring together natural scientists in international scientific endeavour. It comprises 26 international, single-discipline Scientific Unions (of which IUPsyS is one) and 98 multi-disciplinary National Scientific Members, Associates and Observers (scientific research councils or science academies). Its goal is to provide a wide spectrum of scientific expertise to address major international, interdisciplinary issues.
