

FURTHER CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

2024 IUPsyS Archbishop Desmond Tutu Achievement Against the Odds Award

ABOUT THE AWARD

The International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS) Archbishop Desmond Tutu Achievement Against the Odds Award seeks to honour a researcher or team of researchers who succeeded in conducting research under extremely difficult circumstances, involving great personal risk or hardship, for the good of scientific research, the scientific community, and/or the public-at-large and humanity. The Award is related primarily to resilience in the context of extraordinary challenges; particular importance will also be given to the long-term impact of the work in question. Presentation of the Award will be at the 33rd International Congress of Psychology (ICP) in Prague, Czech Republic, July 2024. The Awardee will deliver an address at the Congress. Funds to cover travel and accommodation related to attending the Award ceremony will be provided¹. Nominations will be considered by an independent Jury of distinguished scholars in the field.

NOMINATION PROCESS

Nominations must be made by a National Member and nomination forms can be found online. Nominations should include the following documents:

- a completed nomination form from a National Member
- a curriculum vitae and current contact details of the nominee(s), including a full list of publications, grants, and awards (maximum length 12 pages). In the case of a group, a summary of achievements of group leadership and members (maximum length 12 pages)
- a supporting statement from the National Member
- at least one but a maximum of three supporting letters of recommendation outlining the merits of the nominee from scientists familiar with the nominee's research and theoretical writings.

The nomination from the nominating National Member should also address the following questions:

- What circumstances make this scientist/team eligible for this Award?
- What are the general themes of the nominee's research program?
- What important research findings are attributed to the nominee?
- What has been the significant and enduring influence of the research?

All information may be accessed online. Nominations should be submitted electronically to the IUPsyS Secretariat (awards.secretariat@iupsys.org). Please make the message subject header: 2024 IUPsyS Awards - Archbishop Desmond Tutu Achievement Against the Odds. Nominations should be received by 17:00 UTC, April 15, 2024. Incomplete nominations, nominations that do not follow the guidelines, and/or nominations sent after 17:00 UTC, April 15, 2024 will not be considered².

¹ Should the Award be made to a group, a maximum of one representative will be funded.

² Nominations already submitted will be acknowledged by the Secretariat and will be included in the Jury decision-making. These do not have to be resubmitted as long as an acknowledgement has been received.